

Pre-Construction Checklist

July 15, 2008

- ▶ Evidence that a plan review has been completed by a certified plans examiner, including date, name, certification number, comments and responses for each comment from the plan review;
- ▶ Evidence that a plan review of new or renovated school kitchen facilities has been completed by local health department authorities with comments and responses for each comment from the kitchen plan review;
- ▶ Evidence that a structural peer review of the plans has been completed, including the date, name of the structural engineer, comments and responses for each comment from the structural review;
- ▶ Evidence that an energy code review has been completed, including the date, name of the energy code reviewer, comments and responses for each comment from the energy code review;
- ▶ Evidence that the State Fire Marshal's office has reviewed the plans, including the date, name of the reviewer, comments and responses for each comment from the fire review.
- ▶ Evidence that geologic and seismic hazards have been considered at the proposed site for new construction: Utah Geological Survey \(UGS\) has performed an initial "screening" of the site for geological hazards; a qualified geo-technical consultant has conducted a technical investigation and a complete site-specific geologic-hazards evaluation; the geo-technical consultant's report has been submitted to UGS for review; UGS has evaluated the adequacy of the report and provided a review letter with a checklist with recommendations either approval or further identified work;
- ▶ Evidence that the local municipality or county has reviewed and approved the project within parameters set in statute (10-9a-305 Utah Code for municipalities and 17-27a-305 for counties).
- ▶ A list of all inspectors, including special inspectors, with their certifications, license numbers, and license expiration date, who will be providing the inspections—this list must also be provided to Jenefer Youngfield in our office at USOE at the time when SP-4 and SP-5 forms are submitted. (Her email address is jenefer.youngfield@schools.utah.gov).
